Subject: American Executive magazine article

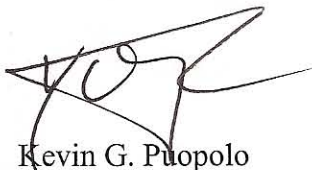

Dear John:

The cm&b team is pleased to share with NorthStar Construction Services Corporation, our business partner, a recent article featured in American Executive magazine. The Corporate Spotlight piece appeared in the June issue of the monthly periodical and highlighted cm&b's ongoing commitment to provide world-class management services for every project we undertake.

Of course this lofty goal could never be achieved without the same level of commitment from each of our partners involved with any cm&b project, from subcontractor to architect/engineer to owner. Every member of the project team plays a vital role in its success and we are proud of our association with NorthStar Construction Services Corporation for your own commitment to excellence. It is because of partners like you that cm&b has prospered and continues to enjoy a solid reputation in the construction management field.

cm&b promotes a team concept to optimize talents and strengths and in doing so ensures a top quality product. We are pleased NorthStar Construction Services Corporation is an associate of the cm&b team.

Sincerely,
cm&b, Inc.
